

Here are a few ideas of how your invitations can be worded if you have not yet decided on wording you could have a look over them.

Mark Jones and Steven Smith, invite you to share in their, love and happiness as they, pledge their commitment to each other, at a Civil Partnership Ceremony, on date, at time, at address. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at address RSVP by date to address

Together with their parents, Mark Jones and Steven Smith, would be delighted if....., would join them as they pledge their commitment to each other in a ceremony which will take place at address, on date, at time. The ceremony will be followed by a drinks reception at address. Please RSVP date to email address or phone

Mark Jones and Steven Smith, will pledge their commitment to each other in a Civil Partnership Ceremony on date, at time, and they would be delighted if you could join them to share their special day. The ceremony will take place at address, and will be followed by a celebratory dinner which will commence immediately afterwards. RSVP by date to address

The pleasure of your company is requested at the Civil Partnership ceremony of Mark Jones and Steven Smith, at location on date at Dinner and dancing will follow immediately afterwards. RSVP by date to address

Mark Jones and Steven Smith, request the honour of your presence at their Civil Partnership ceremony, on date at time, at venue and at the reception afterwards. Celebrations will continue with an evening reception commencing at 7:30 pm.

Mark and Steven would be delighted if..... would join them at their, Civil Partnership ceremony, on date, at time, at location, The ceremony will be followed by a champagne reception. Please RSVP by 30th June 2015